I have added some additional forum topics, especially one, Seismic Shifts, for the upcoming church event.

Also, please feel free to leave questions, comments and general feedback on any suggestions for the website, forum topics, etc.

I think it might be better if there should be an intended tread for comment and suggestion for the forum. This might make the users more comfortable to have some suggestion and comments. I'm just thinking about this earlier for some forum too.

I agree, good idea. But what topics would interest you or others? I would be more than happy to create whatever you would like to see and discuss.
